1. Fill a medium-sized pot with water, add 1 tsp. salt, and bring to a boil. While the water is heating, trim the broccoli crowns and cut into bite-sized flowerets. (Make them all the same size so they will cook the same amount.) When water is boiling, add the broccoli, cook for exactly 3 minutes, then drain broccoli into a colander placed in the sink and let it cool.

2. Mash the garlic with 1/4 tsp. salt. (I used a mortar and pestle, but you can use anything that will smash up the garlic.) Mix in the hot pepper flakes and red wine vinegar and let it sit for about 10 minutes.

3. Heat 1 T of olive oil in a heavy frying pan, add the almonds, and fry until they are lightly browned, about 2-3 minutes. (Watch carefully because they can go from lightly browned to burned rather quickly.) Put the almonds on a plate covered with a paper towel and let almonds cool a few minutes. (You can salt them if you want, but I thought the salad was salty enough with the Feta.)

4. After 10 minutes, whisk the remaining 4 T of olive oil into the vinegar-garlic mixture. Combine the broccoli, Feta, and half the almonds in a bowl; then toss with the dressing to coat. Serve salad right away, with remaining almonds sprinkled over the top.

The vegetable agenda: Getting children to eat “nutritious” food

The goal is not getting-vegetables-into-your-child-right-now. It is supporting your child so she learns to enjoy vegetables for her lifetime. She will learn to eat vegetables and other nutritious food when you follow the division of responsibility in feeding and matter-of-factly eat and enjoy vegetables and other nutritious foods, yourself.

Hurry Up Baked Apples

Serves: 4  Cost/Serving: $0.45

INGREDIENTS

2 medium size tart apples (Granny Smith, Braeburn, Cortland, Jonathan, Fuji)
1 teaspoon white or brown sugar, packed
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 tablespoons oatmeal
2 tablespoons (total) raisins, sweetened dried cranberries, chopped walnuts or other nuts
1 container (6-ounces) low fat vanilla yogurt

INSTRUCTIONS

Cut apples in half lengthwise. Use spoon to remove cores and hollow out a space 1” or more deep. Arrange apple halves, cut sides up, in microwavable dish. Cut thin slices off bottoms to keep from tipping.

1. Combine sugar, cinnamon, oatmeal, raisins, cranberries, and nuts. Fill each apple half with sugar mixture.
2. Cover with plastic wrap. Fold back one edge 1/4” to vent steam. Microwave 3-3 1/2 minutes or until apples can be cut easily.
3. Remove from microwave. Let sit a few minutes.
4. Spoon yogurt over the top.

TIPS

These are great as a dessert, as a snack, or for breakfast. Fresh apples keep best in a plastic bag in the refrigerator.
